

Are You The One MBA Student Who Can Run a Business Now?

FIND OUT WITH THE LIFEBUSHIDO VIRTUAL MBA INTERN PROGRAM

Lifebushido is looking for top MBA students (years one or two) or recent graduates who have a passion for entrepreneurship and a desire to start their own business within 1000 days. Applicants must be majoring in marketing, sales, technology, social media, business model development, operations, or client relations.

This unique unpaid internship opportunity for self-motivated MBAs will make you stand out from your peers and add substantially to your resume. You'll work remotely, gain exposure to microventures, and exercise your entrepreneurial spirit. Become strategically involved in one or more of many different ventures involving either business, creative, or social entrepreneurship with a focus on going from concept to launch to revenue.

An entrepreneurial venture by Lifebushido, the MBA Virtual Intern is a project-based experience for MBA students and recent graduates interested in embarking and trying out mini-ventures within the virtual space.

Lifebushido is building a global network of people working part-time from remote locations with flexible hours using their unique talents. See www.lifebushido.com for information about this visionary company and its founder, Steve Kantor.

Apply today and find out if you've got what it takes to be a Lifebushido Virtual MBA Intern!
